

Project ECHO Nevada presents

Rheumatology ECHO Office Hours

This monthly drop-in program aims to support healthcare providers and staff with their patient care needs related to rheumatology. Sessions will include a subject matter expert from the Kirk Kerkorian School of Medicine who will be able to consult on challenging patient cases regarding musculoskeletal diseases and rheumatic diseases. Each session will also include a didactic presentation that will spotlight case recommendations and drive home the learning points from the discussion.

This will be a free program with CME/CEU credit for physicians, nurses, pharmacy, MFTs, CPCs, and healthcare administrators.

Scheduled on the 4th
